THE LATEST

To-day's Congressional.

National Associated Press to the Star.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—In the Senate to-day, Mr. Wright gave notice that on Thursday morning next he would call up for consideration the bill introduced by him to establish a Court of Appeals in cases of contested elections for President and Vice President.

At 12:30 o'clock it was demonstrated that no quorum was present, and the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

The New York Legislature.

National Associated Press to the Star.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Both houses of the Legislature met at noon to-day. Governor Robinson's message was received and read. He reports the cash balance in Treasury December 30, 1876, $3,305,878. The total State debt now is $23,315,808, being a reduction during the past year of $5,012,757.82.

BACHELOR BENNETT.

Report that the Marriage of James Gordon Bennett is Broken Off.

National Associated Press to the Star.

New York, Jan. 2.—It is just announced that the marriage of James G. Bennett and Miss Ida May was broken off on Saturday last, by the lady's father refusing to consent.

STATE GOVERNMENTS.

National Associated Press to the Star.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans, Jan. 2.—The Republicans assembled early yesterday at the State-house, and the Democrats appeared at noon, with contestants, and demanded the removal of the police and the barricades. The demand was refused, and the Democrats protested, and all withdrew to St. Patrick's Hall. The Republican body organized, and elected Michael Hahn Speaker.

The House has fifty-three members. Warmth has sixteen adherents, and the Senate has nineteen members, making a full quorum. The Democratic House also organized, and elected Louis Bush Speaker. It has a working quorum. The Senate chose Mr. Ogden for President. The two Legislatures are now in good working order. There is no excitement.

South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, Jan. 2.—The argument has been concluded in the Smyth habeas corpus case. Col. L. F. Youman arguing on behalf of Hampton, and the U. S. District Attorney on behalf of Chamberlain. The arguments of these two gentlemen occupied the entire day, and thoroughly reviewed the ground occupied by each of the claimants for the office of Governor. Judge Carpenter took the papers, and will render his decision during the coming week. The military were removed from the State-house yesterday.

Florida.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 2.—The Supreme Court met yesterday to receive the answer of the Returning Board. The Court decided that the Board had not complied with the order and must do so at once. It said the duty of the Board was simply to count, add up and report the vote and that it should proceed to do so. The question of jurisdiction had already been decided by the Court. The Board asked for time and was allowed till to-day to obey the order of the Court. Draw is to be inaugurated at noon to-day.

NEW YORK.

New York, Jan. 2.—The Times' special from Tallahassee says the Supreme Court reassembled yesterday and took up the matter of the return of the State Canvassing Board to the writ ordering a new count from the face of the returns. As no answer appeared to the writ, a new order was then caused directing the Board to reassemble and make a fresh canvass and count of the returns, and confine themselves to the vote for Governor, as no other candidates' rights were involved.

The proceedings under this order was made returnable at 4:30 P. M. The Canvassing Board reassembled and canvassed the returns for Governor as before, and returned the result to Court as their answer to the new writ. Whether the return will be satisfactory to the Court will not be known before to-day, as the Court adjourned without taking action.

Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 2.—The members of the Indiana Legislature, which convenes this week, are beginning to arrive. The hotels are filling up, and there is a prospect of pretty lively times with the Legislature and the Democratic State Convention, which meets on the 8th to consider the Presidential question.

New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 2.—The inauguration of Governor Robinson was a plain and undemonstrative affair. Governor Tilden arose, and in a brief speech delivered the office to his successor. Governor Robinson replied very briefly, and congratulated Governor Tilden in being called by a popular majority to the highest place in the Nation. This expression was followed by a burst of applause from the audience. The entire ceremony occupied just fifteen minutes.

North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 2.—The inauguration of Governor Vance passed off quietly. A large crowd was in attendance. His address was applauded to the echo. Alluding to National affairs he said: "I conceive our situation to be critical in the extreme. Our only reliance now is upon the moderation and patriotism of Congress. If the representatives of the people and of the States shall not be able to make a peaceable and constitutional solution of the difficulty in which the country now finds itself, and there should be attempts to threaten to inaugurate the candidates not fairly elected, one of two things will happen—either the majority of the American people will quietly submit to a great wrong, involving the destruction of the Constitution, or there will be a resort to violence."

"Let us look things in the face. The circumstances of North Carolina, as well as of the Southern States generally, imperatively demand that we should not be all things in this matter. More than all things else, except good government, we need peace."

ASHTABULA.

Rolls of the Killed and the Missing.

National Associated Press to the Star.

ASHTABULA, Jan. 2.—At the Coroner's inquest the most important witness was Charles H. Tyler, of St. Louis. He had his face terribly bruised and right hand injured. He was in appearance and in his answers exceedingly intelligent. While the train was at Buffalo he examined the coaches, and was satisfied that fully two hundred persons, seventy more than the conductor stated on the day previous, were on the train. Tyler said he had been Captain of steamboats on the Mississippi River for twenty-four years, and was competent to judge of the number on board from experience. He also traveled a great deal. There were nineteen passengers in his car, named the Palatin. Several card parties were formed just before the accident occurred. The train was going at the rate of fifteen miles an hour when the bell-rope snapped, breaking and extinguishing three of the lamps. Ten seconds later he felt the coach going into the river. The car was engulfed in utter darkness, the anguish of the moment extremely horrible. The abyss was passed, the suspense over, and the terrible crash at the bottom came. Across the rear part of the Palatin fell the City of Buffalo, crushing two men; all in the Palatin were killed.

Witnesses thought that every person in the Buffalo was destroyed, as climbing over that car to a place of safety, he was unable to discover any signs of life within. The other cars fell together, and scores of persons lay in the wreck, giving vent to the most frightful moans, which seemed as if they could be heard for miles. The fire broke out in three places almost simultaneously. If water had been put on the flames even as late as 9 o'clock some persons that were burned might have been saved. Did not know whether or not any order was received from the railroad authorities not to put water on the burning wreck.

The following is a revised and complete list of the dead, as far as known: Mr. Aldrick, Des Moines, Iowa. Lewis J. Barney, Buffalo. Mrs. W. H. Bradley, child and nurse, Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Bliss, Chicago. C. Brunner, Gratiot, Wisconsin; Mrs. C. Brunner and two children of Mr. and Mrs. David Chittenden, Cleveland. L. C. Crane, New Haven, Connecticut. M. P. Cragwell, Chicago. Mrs. E. Cook, Wellington. Wm. Clemens, Belleville, Ohio. Mrs. Emma Coffin, Oakland, Cal. James Doyle, New York. Clarence Gage, Charleston, Ill. Alfred Gillette, Cranberry Island, Mo. Mrs. George J. Giddings. Miss George, Cleveland. L. W. Hart, Akron, O. H. T. Hall, Chicago. Mrs. P. L. Hall, Chicago. T. A. Hodzkins, Bangor, Me. Charles Kane, Pittsburg. Annie Ketterville, Beloit, Wis. George Kelley, Cleveland. Lawrence Longeneck, Cleveland. Maggie L. Lewis, St. Louis, Mo. Philip McNeil, Cleveland. Miss Minnie Mixer, Buffalo. Mrs. J. D. Marston, mother and child, Chicago. Sarah S. Mann, Cleveland. Mrs. W. L. Moore, New York. Isaac Meyer, Cleveland. Hilde Meyer, Cleveland. Richard Osburn, Tecumseh, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Peck, Poria, Ill. (doubtful). Mrs. G. E. Bunker, wife and two children, Gratiot, Mich.

NEWS FROM THE METROPOLIS.

National Associated Press to the Star.

Snow Storm.

New York, Jan. 2.—New York was visited last night by a regular old-fashioned snow storm, and this morning the city presents a spectacle not witnessed for a number of years. The streets are blocked with huge piles of snow, and traffic is almost suspended. But few wheeled vehicles are seen on the streets except horse-cars, and on the avenues long lines of these cars are seen blocked and unable to make headway. Locomotion on foot is almost impossible.

The storm set in about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued until late in the night. The snow drifted badly, and is piled up in places to a depth of four feet. It fell to a depth of eighteen inches on a level, and this, with the accumulation of previous storms, has given New York a decidedly arctic appearance. The weather this morning, however, is only moderately cold, and the wind has moderated.

Crimes and Accidents.

A number of affrays and casualties resulting from the excessive use of liquor occurred here yesterday, though in a majority of cases they were of minor importance, not ending fatally. During an altercation last night about the payment for drinks in a bar room on Varick street, James Blake shot Michael Adams in the temple. The wounded man was insensible when taken to the hospital, and can not recover. Blake was arrested.

Mrs. Ann Wild was fatally shot by Emma Herakowicz, aged thirteen, at the residence of the former, in East New York, yesterday. The girl was carelessly handling a revolver.

Statistics of 1876.

During the past year there have been thirty-three failures of business firms in this city, with aggregate liabilities, as shown by a statement prepared on the subject, of $1,873,298. In addition to these failures, thirty assignments were made for the benefit of creditors, and involving a loss to them, it is estimated, of $1,200,000. The number of vessels arriving at this port for the past year, as compiled by Boarding Office Marble, is shown to have been 5,731.

Loss by Fire.

The pottery-works of Kreischer & Sons at Krescherville, Staten Island, were burned Sunday night with contents, including a large amount of manufactured goods ready for shipment. The buildings covered an area of ground. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

National Associated Press to the Star.

LOUISIANA WANTS FEDERAL PROTECTION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The President this morning received from the Governor of Louisiana the resolution passed by the Legislature of that State, calling upon the President of the United States for protection against the threatened violence, &c.

The President has taken no action on the subject as yet, nor has he decided what action he will take. The precedent has been to refer such requisitions to the Attorney General for examination and report, and in case of a favorable report by this officer the President would then issue his proclamation ordering the parties resisting the legal State authorities to disperse, &c. There seems to be no fear entertained in Administrative circles here of riot and bloodshed in New Orleans, for the reason that Gen. Auger has ample force to prevent it.

FOREIGN.

IN THE EAST.

National Associated Press to the Star.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The latest dispatches from Constantinople received to-day state that Turkey is disposed to ignore the guarantees demanded by the Powers. It is probable that the next three days' sitting of the Conference will decide the whole question. The aspect of affairs in the East has adversely affected the European bourses.

DESTRUCTIVE GALES.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—A gale of unprecedented violence prevailed on the South Coast of England yesterday. The Dover pier was partially destroyed. The damage is estimated at $150,000. At Eastbourne there was great destruction, and the damage foots up $350,000. Nearly every town on the south coast, from Dover to Portsmouth, was partially inundated by the high tide, and furniture was washed out of the houses. The floods were caused by heavy rains, which continue to be reported throughout the country, and the damage done is widespread.

LATEST LOCAL.

The Grand Jury has been sworn in.

The nuncupative will of Katie Ledwidge was probated.

The firemen of the Mohawk Engine-house on Hamilton Road and Vine street, about 9 A. M., caught a deer which is supposed to have strayed from the Zoological Garden.

J. MARTEL, a shoemaker, who lives at No. 127 West Fifth street, is locked up at the Hammond-street station on a warrant charging him with having stolen $150 from Eugene Lalime, who lives at the same place.

JOHN and ALBERT BOLSER, of Marietta, O., were arraigned before Commissioner Hooper on a charge of violating the Bankrupt Law. They gave bail in the sum of $3,000 for their appearance on Wednesday afternoon.

Mortuary Record.

Mollie Carter, 18 months, city. Catherine Camel, 27 years, Ireland. E. T. Agatha, 51 years, Germany. Infant Charles Christopher, 3 years, city. Cornelia Smith, 34 years, city. Catherine Green, 18 years, city. Wm. H. Porters, 32 years, city. Frank Limberg, 42 years, Germany.

Fire in Loveland.

A fire occurred in Loveland this morning which destroyed the residence of Henry Peachey, Esq., President of the Lafayette Bank. The house is a total loss. The loss will amount to fully $10,000; insured for $7,500 in the Fidelity.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued since our last report:

Arthur Bray and Clara B. Wilbur, Charles Hertz and Gustava Lennar. W. R. Kraus and Anna Earhart. John P. Kline and Annie S. Hughes. L. D. Jackson and Jennie Grido. T. H. Guard and Cynthia A. Creach. Morris Witham and Mary S. Ford. J. H. Hays and Mattie Simington. G. W. Safely and Mary Wright. Adolph Haas and Henrietta Berman. Chas. Martin and Katie Campbell. W. E. Kelley and Mary A. Parr. J. H. Jensen and Lina B. Roberts. J. Schultz and Emma Peters. M. Schulz and Mary D. Schwenk. W. H. Andre and Sophia Hofstetter. J. S. Baily and Alice Duncan. J. McNamara and Susan McNamara. A. Sedelke and Mary Hasummar.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

Christ, Roll has been appointed cook at the County Jail.

Allen O'Meyers ("Pickaway" of the Enquirer) has returned from South Carolina.

Alderman Voigt, of the Seventeenth Ward, was caned yesterday by his employees.

The LaRue Family, the celebrated acrobats, arrived last night from Louisville, and are stopping at the Gail House.

James Moloney, Esq., Ex-Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, who has been succeeded by Lewis W. Irwin, will engage in the general practice of his profession.

W. H. Anders, one of our fire fighters, was married last evening to Miss Sophia Hostetter, at the residence of Assistant Engineer Wilby. The ceremony was performed by Squire D. W. C. Lee.

Mr. M. M. White, President of the Fourth National Bank, slipped on the ice at the corner of Main and Liberty streets yesterday, and broke his right leg. He was taken to his home on Mount Auburn.

Mr. G. H. Menke, who has been appointed Assistant by Coroner Sica, will assume his position as soon as the Commissioners confirm the appointment. In the mean time, Mr. Ben. Sutt will still hold the fort.

OPEN HOUSE.

Mayor Johnston's Reception.

The Chief Magistrate of Cincinnati has good reasons to feel proud of the brilliant reception which was held at his hospitable mansion on East Third street yesterday.

From early in the day until late at night his house was the scene of festivity and enjoyment. The guests were welcomed by the amiable hostess and her beautiful daughter, assisted by three young ladies, which number were reinforced by a dozen other handsome ladies at night, when Prof. Currier, with his Quadrille Band, arrived and furnished music for the dancing that was kept up until an early hour this morning.

Among the guests who called yesterday and last night, the number of nearly four hundred, were representatives from all the Municipal Boards of the city, besides the Judiciary, Ex-Mayors, Trustees of the Southern Railroad, and hundreds of personal friends, with a goodly portion of the local press-gang.

Take it all in all, the occasion was a brilliant and happy tribute of respect to one of Cincinnati's most honored and trusted citizens.

THE JUDICIAL MILL.

Judge Lindemann's Reception this Morning.

It was a day after the fair, so to speak, but the many friends of His Honor who paid him their respects this beautiful morning were prevented in doing so yesterday by circumstances over which they had no control.

He appreciated the situation and his smile was as genial, and his brow as unclouded as though each caller had been dumped in front of the City Building on a hack, and each were a mercantile library ribbon.

His Honor is no respecter of persons, but gives a fair count to all.

Among the many distinguished personages who stopped to tell how it was were the following:

Edward Morris appeared, and, in an ice-berg sort of a way, waived examination on two charges of burglary, and was bound over to the Grand Jury in the sum of $1,000 in each case. Morris was captured by Officer Tim Gleason early yesterday morning in John Moran's grocery, at 52 East Fifth street; $14.60 in coppers and $24 worth of jewelry were found upon him. Last evening Charles Kelt, a jeweler at No. 89 Broadway, identified part of the articles as stolen from his store on Sunday night, and preferred a second charge of burglary.

Annie Lucas alias Willey, a large raw-boned fifteen amendment, residing in Bucktown, waited up next to see His Honor on a charge of cutting with intent to kill another raw-boned companion named Rose Lawton. The trouble between the females occurred about 1 o'clock this morning in a low den at the corner of Seventh and Culvert streets. Rose has an ugly gash across the left side of her neck, from which a large amount of blood flowed. Annie declares her innocence of the cutting, and states with all the earnestness with which she is capable, that a black sheep named Kate Jenkins did the carving. The case will be inquired into next Saturday, when perhaps the crushed Rose will bloom again.

During a fight which occurred last night in the rear of a Main street saloon, kept by Ben. Futhoff, Richard Turners received a cut nearly an inch long in the left side and another three inches long above it, with a knife in the hands of Joseph O'man, who with Turners occupies an apartment at No. 580 Main street. The quarrel originated in the saloon, but by mutual consent the men adjourned to the back yard to buy close shaven other. Immediately after the affray, O'man decamped but was arrested a few hours later. This morning the wounded man not being able to appear the case was laid over until next Saturday.

From the following list of those who registered on the book in the anti-room, and then were ushered in the Auld House to receive a New Year's greeting, it will be seen that the Judicial mill ground both steadily and "exceedingly large."

OUR LIBERAL GIVERS.—"Burleigh," writing from New York to the Boston Journal, says: "There is a great deal of private charity in New York, and huge sums are donated by princely men

AND WOMEN THAT NEVER COME TO THE SURFACE.

A leading banker told me yesterday that his donations to his own church the past year were $125,000. Some men have given for various benevolent causes the last year $250,000. A Scotch Christian man, who kept a small store on Canal street for twenty-five years, was a member of a humble church on the west side. For a quarter of a century the church never closed the year in debt. The merchant drew his check and paid everything off before the new year came in. There are half a dozen ladies, whose husbands are among the wealthiest men in the city, who have been among our largest givers. Some of them keep intelligent women in the field, who seek out the really deserving women and children and send aid to them directly, without its going through the hands of associations. More than once, when a donation was made, the donor would say, "This is my money; don't mention it to my husband."

PERSONAL.

Dom Pedro is going up the Nile as far as the first cataract.

Miss Anna Oliver, the first Methodist woman pastor, is reported to be doing exceedingly good work in Passaic, N. J.

Mrs. Alice Key Pondleton, wife of the Hon. G. H. Pondleton, has just bought a small estate in Newport, R. I., for $9,750.

Mr. Swinburne is writing a pamphlet on the Eastern Question, and its teaching is not at all that of Mr. Carlyle's lecturer.

President Porter of Yale will visit Buffalo shortly, and the Yale graduates in the city will offer him a formal entertainment.

Madame Teresa Carreno-Sa
